Program Description: This is a two-year fellowship training program in Urogynecology and Female Pelvic Reconstructive Surgery, that takes places in a 1500 bed, tertiary care public hospital in México. Trainees have the opportunity to participate in urogynecology clinics, cystoscopy, urodynamic studies and surgical procedures accompanied by the program's expert faculty. A multidisciplinary approach is encouraged for all patients, with team meetings with the Laparoscopy, Coloproctology, Urology and Physiotherapy departments being held regularly. The department has an active research program, and trainees are required to take part in it during the duration of their training.
